OKC adopts new tornado siren policy

Oklahoma City's new tornado siren policy makes it more important than ever to immediately take shelter and get more information when you hear a siren. The important new policy change divides OKC into zones. When the National Weather Service (NWS) issues a tornado warning, only the sirens in zones covered by the warning will sound. Residents and visitors don't need to know what zone they're in, only to immediately take shelter and get more information if they hear a siren. More

OKC Council approves new MAPS 3 Modern Streetcar routes

The Oklahoma City Council today approved modifications to the previously approved MAPS 3 Modern Streetcar route. The change creates an additional dedicated route to better connect the MAPS 3 Park and the proposed MAPS 3 Convention Center to Bricktown. More

OKC homeowners affected by the May 2013 storms can apply for free home repairs

Oklahoma City homeowners whose homes were damaged by wind, hail, flooding or a tornado during the May 19-20 or 31, 2013, storm can apply for free structural home repairs.

The Action Center at 405-297-2535 routes complaints and questions to other City departments and divisions, including Police, Code Enforcement and Zoning Enforcement.

For emergencies call 911. Call the Action Center to report issues like illegally parked cars, abandoned and inoperable cars, dead trees and tall weeds.
