Key Takeaways from Overview Session

Management and Executive Pay Plan Positions

- Performance evaluations will be online.
- Employees and managers may view performance details, goal-related tasks, and rating information.
- Employees may privately provide performance feedback and publicly praise or acknowledge others.
- Facilitated check-ins and 1:1 conversations may be captured in the system for reference throughout the evaluation cycle.
- New competencies provide a pathway for internal career growth.
- Rating scale has been streamlined.
- Strategic business plan goals can be cascaded and aligned throughout the organization.
- Performance, Inclusion and Diversity, and career development goals will be established.
- Mid-year reviews will be implemented.
- Employees will have the opportunity to self-evaluate performance and collect 360-degree feedback from others.
- One standardized General Pay Plan performance evaluation will be used.
- Pay and performance has been decoupled.
- Step progression pay adjustments are being system-generated for employees in active status, unless 30-days advance notification is received regarding a performance concern.
- This does not affect the timing of merit adjustments as pay review dates will be frozen.
- A new step placement procedure has been issued.

Career Statement

The screenshot shows a LinkedIn profile for Stephen Fuller, titled "Career Development". The profile picture is a man in a suit. The main content is a "Career Statement" section with an "Edit" button and an upward arrow. The text of the statement is as follows:

Career Statement Edit ^

I am driven by a deep passion for fostering innovation, changing the world, and improving people's lives through the power of technology. As a dedicated professional, I am committed to leveraging my skills, knowledge, and creativity to make a meaningful impact in the rapidly evolving technological landscape.

My primary goal is to be at the forefront of innovation, consistently pushing boundaries and seeking new opportunities to drive positive change. I aspire to be a catalyst for transformation, identifying and solving complex problems with innovative technological solutions that have the potential to revolutionize industries and enhance the quality of life for individuals and communities.

In my career, I seek to actively contribute to projects and organizations that share my vision of harnessing technology's potential for social good. I aim to work with diverse teams of like-minded individuals, collaborating across disciplines to create cutting-edge solutions that address global challenges, ranging from healthcare and education to sustainability and accessibility.

I am committed to a lifelong journey of continuous learning and growth, staying abreast of emerging technologies, trends, and best practices. By combining my technical expertise with a deep understanding of user needs and societal impact, I strive to develop user-centric innovations that truly make a difference in people's lives.

Ultimately, my career is driven by the belief that technology can be a powerful force for positive change. Through my unwavering dedication, innovative mindset, and empathetic approach, I aim to leave a lasting legacy, contributing to a world where technology empowers individuals, bridges gaps, and creates a brighter future for all.

A career statement enables employees to express their career aspirations for the near term and/or the long term in their own words. Employees can also state their career preferences such as when they are interested in making their next career move, what job or job area they would prefer and why. This information is useful for managers and leadership to understand their employees' desires and motivations.

Proposal: Building Bridges for a Connected Future - Moving into an Engineering role at the City of Oklahoma City

Introduction: In an increasingly interconnected world, the need for effective and sustainable infrastructure has never been more critical. As we strive to foster unity, collaboration, and economic growth, I propose an ambitious endeavor: building bridges. These bridges will serve as physical and symbolic structures, connecting people, communities, and nations, while laying the foundation for a prosperous and harmonious future.

Promoting Economic Growth: Building bridges creates vital connections between regions, facilitating the movement of goods, services, and ideas. By reducing transportation barriers, we can unlock untapped potential and spur economic growth. Increased trade and commerce will result in job creation, stimulate investments, and empower local economies. Our bridges will provide vital links, empowering businesses to thrive and prosper.

Enhancing Connectivity and Social Cohesion: Bridges are more than mere physical structures; they serve as symbols of unity and cooperation. By bridging physical divides, we foster social cohesion and promote cultural exchange. Communities that were once isolated will come together, enabling the exchange of knowledge, experiences, and traditions. The resulting cultural enrichment will strengthen social bonds, promote understanding, and build a more inclusive society.

Improving Accessibility and Mobility: Building bridges will enhance accessibility, particularly in remote areas or regions with challenging terrain. By connecting previously isolated communities, we can ensure access to essential services such as healthcare, education, and emergency response. Improved mobility will empower individuals, facilitate social integration, and enhance quality of life. No longer will geographical barriers limit opportunities; our bridges will bridge the divide.

Fostering Sustainable Development: Our bridge construction projects will prioritize sustainability, incorporating eco-friendly designs and materials. By implementing renewable energy solutions, efficient transportation systems, and green infrastructure, we will minimize the ecological impact. Additionally, our projects will create opportunities for green job creation and renewable energy production, aligning with global sustainability goals.

Conclusion: Building bridges is not just about constructing physical connections; it is about forging lasting relationships, fostering economic progress, and promoting social cohesion. By investing in bridge construction, we invest in a brighter future, where barriers are dismantled, unity prevails, and prosperity is shared. Together, let us embark on this transformative journey, bridging gaps and building a connected world for generations to come. I'd love for an opportunity to move into the Engineering field at the City of Oklahoma City.
