Expedition Africa opens

The Oklahoma City Zoo and Botanical Garden's newest and largest-ever habitat expansion, Expedition Africa, presented by the Inasmuch Foundation, is now open. Enjoy the 12-acre expansion with the Flamingo Mingle as they flock together for guests to feed. Check out the state-of-the-art giraffe barn, where guests enjoy up-close views of the giraffes. The giraffe-feeding experience also returns this spring. So come see Expedition Africa, including covered pavilions where guests can be eye-level with the animals and deck seating, allowing for a more leisurely Zoo experience.

HUD grants

The U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development awarded Oklahoma City with $7.1 million in grants last month to provide housing for people experiencing homelessness. The award is $2.4 million more than last year's grant. Funding through HUD is the largest source of homeless assistance the City receives annually. It helps fill gaps by combining permanent housing assistance for people of greatest need with services like case management to help them stabilize. Learn more about the City's homeless response plan at keytohomeokc.org.

Employees of the year

The City of Oklahoma City and the South Oklahoma City Kiwanis Club recognized three City employees for their outstanding achievements this past year. City Council recognized these individuals for their dedication, professionalism and commitment to OKC residents. Congratulations to Employee of the Year Krysta Snyder, Firefighter of the Year Maj. Lance Jones and Police Officer of the Year Master Sgt. Michael Rogers.

Passenger increase

Will Rogers World Airport (WRWA) served 4,400,049 airline passengers in 2023, an increase of more than 11% from 2022, which had 3,951,333 passengers. The numbers came close to matching 2019 passenger numbers of 4,418,749, which are the highest on record. For the latest information on WRWA or to plan your visit, go to flyokc.com.

Mental Health Services

The City of OKC is enhancing the way we interact with and provide services to people experiencing a mental health crisis. One example is our Crisis Intervention Team with the Police Department. This team is made up of officers who successfully completed a 40-hour crisis intervention training and are dispatched when a person poses a threat to themselves or others. The program focuses on mental health, substance abuse and crisis response training. For more info, visit okc.gov/government/mental-health-services.

Tornado Safety

Tornado season is fast approaching, register your storm shelter so first responders can locate you quicker: <https://app.okc.gov/applications/stormshelter/Forms/Welcome.aspx>

- Shelter indoors, away from flying debris.
- Go to your basement, storm cellar, safe room or lowest level of your home.
- Go to the most interior hallway or room without windows. Stay away from windows and doors.
- Avoid places/rooms with wide-span roofs (cafeterias, gymnasiums, shopping malls).
- Don't try to outrun a tornado in your car. It's one of the most unsafe places to be during a tornado.
- Don't seek shelter in drainage systems, culverts or ditches because of flash flooding.
