Description of Impact: Proposed increase in the hotel tax levy from 5.5% to 9.25%.

Summary of Impact:

Oklahoma City's hotel tax levy has been at the 5.5% rate since 2004 and currently generates approximately $18.8 million annually. Approximately $11.6 million in additional proceeds may be generated for dedicated tourism/visitor programs with an increased levy of 3.75%. The new rate will be 9.25%. Business travelers, and residents, from Oklahoma City pay higher lodging taxes when visiting most other cities.

75.0% Visit OKC- $8,700,000
13.3% Event Sponsorship- $1,542,800
6.7% Fairgrounds- $777,200
5.0% OKC Convention Center- $580,000

a. Cost to City Organization: Unlike sales tax, Oklahoma City administers and enforces the hotel tax. Minimal, if any, additional administrative costs are likely to be incurred by the City as a result of an increased levy.

b. Cost to Residents: Residents will pay an additional $3.45 in hotel tax based on the latest reported average per day room rental of $92.01.

c. Cost to Business Community: Representatives of the local hotel industry advise that studies indicate out of town business and leisure visitors comprise approximately 85% of room rentals. Of the remaining 15%, industry officials believe Oklahoma City residents comprise a small portion of in-town customers while businesses make up the majority.

d. Revenue Produced: $11.6 million additional annually.
